CONTRACT LET

Work on First Section of Proposed New Railroad Will Commence Soon.

The Paducah Register of the 7th inst. says: "Work on the first section of a new line of road from Wycliffe, Ky., to Bristol, Tenn., has been awarded to the Cairo & Atlantic Construction Company. The section contracted for will run eastward from Wycliffe 108 miles and will be completed within one year.

"The total distance of the entire line as proposed will be 465 miles. From Wycliffe the road will cross the river from Cairo easterly near the southern border of Kentucky to Jellico, and thence through the northern part of Tennessee to Bristol. Among the places to be touched will be Jacksboro, Tazewell, Sneedsville, Rogersville, Blountville and Bristol, Tenn., and Mayfield, Dexter, Canton, Cadiz, Gracey, Hopkinsville, Elkton, Scottsville, Franklin, Tompkinsville, Albany, Monticello and Jellico in Kentucky.

"Such a line would materially shorten the distance from the coal and iron fields of Western Kentucky to Cairo, Chicago and the West.

"Surveys are being pushed on the remainder of the route. The line will cross the Tennessee River twice, one of the bridges being about 1,800 feet long, and will cross the Cumberland over a bridge of 1,000 feet. The minimum grades will be about one-half of 1 per cent, and the maximum curves three degrees. The officers are: President, L. W. Goode, 11 Broadway, New York; General Manager, Charles H. Delano, Mayfield, Ky.; Assistant General Manager, E. C. Watson, Wycliffe, Ky. The road will be called the Cairo & Tennessee.

Lives In The Clouds.

Chicago, July 8.—Mrs. Harold F. McCormick, daughter of John D. Rockefeller, in discussing her father's visit to Chicago, said: "My father is a persecuted man. It seems the more remarkable inasmuch as he is not an enemy to anybody in the world. He is one of the most genial, great-hearted men in this whole world. He lives in the clouds with his God rather than with worldly things. It is his greatest pleasure to promote happiness among those with whom he comes in contact.

"The newspaper men who follow the Rockefeller family so much do not annoy us; that would be a wrong impression. My father thinks highly of the men who make the newspapers and numbers many of them among his friends. He likes to talk to them. He has played golf with them. The distasteful feature of the publicity is its dealing with personal things—family matter.

"I appreciate the fact that the public takes a great interest in my father. I think possibly the public has a right to know the things that it asks to know about him. He enjoys conversation and likes to have an audience."

Heat In Paducah.

The Paducah Register of Tuesday morning says: "The thermometer yesterday reached the highest point yet attained this year, the mercury going up to 100 degrees in the shade, and rendering the atmosphere of a sweltering nature hardly bearable by the suffering populace. Many thought Sunday was the warmest, but it went to only 99 degrees, but yesterday the horns were taken, as shown by the federal government thermometer at the office of Wm. Borneman, on the second floor above the First National Bank.

"The great heat of the past week has caused the ice factory to do an unprecedented business. The demand for ice was so heavy Saturday that the supply on hand was exhausted and all of Sunday the wagons stood at the factory on North First street. As quickly as a hundred pound cake was manufactured and turned out the wagon man would grab it and rush for his customers out in the city. Much suffering resulted from the famine.

"It was found necessary to start up the branch factory on South Third, and it is now turning out many tons a day also, and will continue to do so as long as the torrid spell continues.

The Canadian Thistle.

The readers of the Ledger are possibly not acquainted with the fact that the law imposes a penalty upon all persons who permit the Canada thistle to grow upon their land, or upon land leased or rented by them, and fixes the fine at not less than $5.00.

This weed is a dangerous and noxious growth and where it once gets a hold on land it is practically impossible to destroy it.

Commonwealth Attorney Smith has been referring this matter to the various grand juries of the district and has published several interviews regarding the matter, but with little effect. We are informed that he will in the future push the prosecution of all persons found guilty of permitting the growth of this weed on their premises, and we trust that the readers of the Ledger will govern themselves accordingly and not be among those who must suffer a fine for negligence in this matter.

Get rid of the thistle.

Resolutions.

Sovereign William Luke Beale, son of F. M. & T. J. Beale, was born June 22, 1885, died June 3, 1907. Was inducted into the mysteries of Woodcraft in Temple camp No. 158, W. O. W. July 19, 1905. He was an honest and upright young gentleman, and the chief support and solace of a widowed mother. Full of life, hope and cheerfulness, meeting all of life's duties cheerfully; always at his post of duty as a son, brother, woodman, citizen or friend. But alas, the great Council Commander has called him to his reward. His work is unfinished and his brethren mourn. Therefore be it, RESOLVED: That in the death of Sov. Beale this camp has lost one of its most active, useful and faithful members; his mother an honorable son, his brothers and sister a true and manly brother and the community one of its brightest young men.

RESOLVED: That as we shall no more hear his kind voice or see his pleasant face in the forest or about our camps, that we imitate his virtues, revere his memory and deplore his loss.

That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minute book of this camp, a copy be presented to the bereaved mother and a copy furnished the Murray Ledger for publication. J. A. HOWLETT, J. A. FITZELL, J. W. WADE, Committee.

Money For Schools.

Frankfort, Ky., July 8.—The total number of children of school age in Kentucky, shown in the annual census just completed, is 739,640 an increase of 6,309 over the census of a year ago. The total reported in the country districts, is 590,928, while the cities contain 148,712.

Upon this report, which is official, with the exception of the county of Trigg (estimated), and which has just been returned to the department of public instruction for the state, Superintendent J. H. Fuqua will announce the per capita for the school year of 1907. State Auditor Hager is now having an estimate made of the revenue for the year upon which the per capita is based. The per capita for the last school year was $3.30. It is expected that the revenues for the year will justify an increase of from 5 to 10 cents. The per capita for last year was the largest ever declared in Kentucky. It was paid promptly as it became due under the law, giving much satisfaction to the thousands engaged in school work over the state. The payment justified the large per capita paid, and if it can be increased from $3.35 to $3.40, it will establish a new high record for the common schools of Kentucky. The per capita will be declared within the next few days by Superintendent Fuqua.

Threshed Wheat Baked.

Hopkinsville, July 10.—Night riders destroyed about one hundred bushels of newly threshed wheat last night belonging to

R. D. Fort, near the Tennessee line, and pulled up a quarter of an acre of tobacco which had been planted for several days and which was growing nicely. Mr. Fort is not a member of the association and, after setting fire to his wheat the night riders wrote in the dust a warning that unless he joined the association, he might expect further trouble. He was a member of the organization until two years ago, since which time he has been selling his tobacco independently.

The wheat was threshed yesterday and the sacks, about two hundred, were piled in the straw rick. This rick was set on fire and about one hundred bushels of the wheat was entirely destroyed while the balance was only slightly damaged.

The tobacco was destroyed by being pulled up by the roots from the hills in which it had been planted.

It is reported that threshermen of that section have been warned that they must not thresh the wheat of certain non-association farmers. Some of these, it is said, have heeded the warning while others have not. One of those who is said to have received more than one warning of this nature is a Mr. Ramsey, who has been in the threshing business for a number of years.

Obituary.

Miss Minnie Magdalene Murphy, daughter of James Murphy and wife, was born Sept. 22nd, 1875, professed faith in Christ in the year 1891 and joined the Baptist church at Farmington, Ky., and was baptized in the year 1892 by Eld. T. B. Rouse.

After a considerable siege of intense suffering she quietly and peacefully passed away in death the 29th day of May 1907. It may truthfully be said of her that she was a devoted christian and an obedient child, she was one of the most cheerful and yet zealous young ladies in the church of which she was a member. She had a great influence in the community in which she lived. She was well educated, had taught several terms in the common schools of her county, and did her work with much credit to herself, giving general satisfaction, and winning the affection and esteem of her pupils and patrons. In her death the church has lost one of its most highly esteemed and valuable members. The home has sustained an irreparable loss, the community one of its most affable friends who was ever ready to lend a helping hand to those in distress or need and speak words of condolence or impart words of instruction whenever an opportunity for doing so presented itself. She was the friend of her pastor, always ready to help with her presence and prayers as well as to contribute liberally of her means to the support of the cause. After funeral services conducted by Eld. L. V. Henson and this scribe in the Baptist church at Farmington on the 30th day of May, the remains were laid to rest and await the master's call. She is gone but not forgotten.

She leaves a father and mother together with a host of relatives and friends to mourn her death.

A loved one from us is gone, A form we loved is still, A place is vacant in the home, That never can be filled.

The Knock-out Blow.

The blow which had hit out Cortez was a revelation to the prize fighters. From the first day of the ring the blow was aimed for the jaw, the temple or the groin. But now the blow was thrown in the body and the fighter who had been so confident of his invulnerability was now a man of straw. Dr. Pierce is bringing to the public a parallel fact: that the stomach is the most vulnerable organ of the body and as well as in it. We protect the throat, the feet and the hands, but the stomach is utterly unprotected. Make your stomach strong and healthy by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and you will find it a most valuable remedy for "weak stomach," indigestion, dyspepsia, torpid liver, thin and impure blood and other diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" has a specific curative effect upon all mucous surfaces and hence cures catarrh, no matter where located or what stage it may have reached. In Nasal Catarrh it is used to cleanse the passages with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy fluid while using the "Discovery" as a constitutional remedy. Way the "Golden Medical Discovery" cures catarrhal diseases, as of the stomach, bowels, bladder and other pelvic organs will be plain to you if you will read a booklet of extracts from the writings of eminent medical authorities, endorsing its ingredients and explaining their curative properties. It is mailed free on request. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. This booklet gives all the ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's medicines from which it will be seen that they contain not a drop of alcohol, pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead.

Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser will be sent free paper bound, for 21 one-cent stamps, or cloth bound for 21 stamps. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

A Game of Eyes

BY W. CRAWFORD SHERLOCK.

"Look across the street, Phil," Tom Brandon seems to be scared to death of that big fellow with the black hat. I wonder what's up."

"Don't bother me, Jim, I'm busy," returned Harrington, impatiently, but nevertheless he glanced through the open window in the direction of Morris has indicated.

"Tom's been casting furtive glances at the big fellow as if he was trying to dodge him," continued Morris, excitedly. "Now he's stopped in front of that jewelry store and the big fellow has ranged up alongside of him."

"Brandon's as pale as a ghost," observed Harrington, now thoroughly interested. "He's started off again and the big fellow is after him. Hello, he's coming over here!"

This was true. Brandon, eagerly glancing around for some way of escape from his pursuer, had seen Harrington and was hurrying across the street. A few moments later, he entered and sank, breathless and exhausted, into the chair Morris pushed towards him.

"What's the matter, Tom?" inquired Harrington, solicitously. "You are trembling like a leaf. Who's that big fellow who was following you?"

"Haven't the slightest idea, Phil," replied Brandon, shuddering at the reference to his pursuer. "That fellow's been following me for the past two months. No matter where I go, he's always behind me. A week ago he moved into the house next door to mine and it's been ten times worse since then."

"Why don't you ask him what he means?" demanded Morris, pugnaciously. "If he don't answer straight, let him have one between the eyes. He's bigger than you, Tom, but you've been up against worse problems than that in your college days."

"I can't, Jim," returned Brandon, mournfully. "I wish I could but that fellow's got a pair of the most piercing black eyes in his head that you ever saw. They bore me through like a gimlet and send a cold chill down my backbone. It may be nerves, hypnotic influence or hereditary weakness, I don't know which but, all the same, that chap's worrying the life out of me and I can't guess why he does it."

"You're in bad shape, Tom, there's no mistake about that," declared Harrington, sympathetically. "Why don't you run down to the country and brace up a bit. Then when you come back with your old-time nerve, you can make that black-eyed beauty quit staring at you even if you have to close his eyes for him."

"I'd do it in a minute, Phil," replied Brandon, eagerly, "but I'm so tied up that, unless I sell my house, I can't go. I'd sell out cheap, especially since that fellow has moved next door."

"What will you take for the house, Brandon?" inquired Morris, thoughtfully. "Maybe I can sell it for you."

"I'd take five thousand, Jim, although I know it's worth more, just to get away from that fellow with those infernal black eyes. I was offered five thousand some time ago, but I held out for eight. The man who made me the offer wouldn't give his name or I'd go after him."

"All right, Tom," returned Morris. "I'll take the matter in hand. I have an idea that may help me to sell the house."

Jim Morris was keen-eyed and observant. When he watched Brandon's efforts to elude the vigilance of his black-eyed pursuer, Morris felt sure he had seen the man with the piercing eyes somewhere although he could not remember just where it had been or under what circumstances. To make sure of this, he stationed himself near Brandon's house the following morning and, unobserved by either, followed Brandon and his shadow downtown. Brandon, to rid himself of his tormentor, went into Harrington's office and Morris followed the man with the penetrating eyes. The latter, unaware that he was being followed in turn, walked rapidly along until he reached a large office building which he entered. Taking the elevator, Morris and the black-eyed man were rushed up to the seventh floor, where the latter entered the office of Abraham Smart, a well-known real estate broker.

"I guess I'm on the right track," muttered Morris as he followed his man into Mr. Smart's office. "I'd like to punch his head but I'll make him pay for worrying Brandon."

Mr. Smart was engaged, so the office boy informed Morris and the latter took a chair near the door that led into the inner office. The faint murmur of voices reached Morris' ears, followed by a laugh and then the black-eyed man walked out. Jim was ushered into Mr. Smart's presence and after making some inquiries about some property the broker had, withdrew, feeling satisfied that he had gained an insight into the tormenting of his friend.

The next morning, Morris was sitting in his office, busy over his mail, when the man with the piercing black eyes entered.

"You have a house on — avenue advertised for sale," remarked the visitor, carelessly. "What is the price?"

"Eight thousand," replied Morris, curtly.

"Too much," retorted the caller, abruptly. "I'll give you five."

"The price is eight thousand, take it or leave it."

Without further words, the man with the black eyes that so troubled Brandon but did not affect Morris in the slightest, turned and left the office. Morris chuckled: "I've got him going and he'll be sorry before he's through."

On the succeeding day, the man with the piercing black eyes returned to Morris' office to accept the price and make a deposit but to his dismay, found that the price had been raised to ten thousand.

"You said eight thousand yesterday," he blurted out, angrily, striving to use the power of his eyes upon the imperturbable Morris.

"To-day I say ten thousand," retorted Jim, coolly. "Take it or leave it."

Muttering some imprecations, the would-be purchaser left but returned in an hour, willing to pay ten thousand for the property of Brandon. Again he found that real estate had taken a jump, Morris demanding twelve thousand for the property.

"What sort of a game are you playing on me?" demanded the man with the piercing eyes.

"I'm not playing a game of eyes," retorted Morris, coolly. "Listen. I know all about your little scheme to use your devilish eyes upon my friend, Brandon, to induce him to sell his house for a song. I know that you and Smart must have that house to finish an important deal that you have on hand and I know you must have it at once or your scheme falls through. Now, this is your last chance. Pay twelve thousand for the property or I'll buy it myself and block your game."

"How did you know all this?" growled the would-be purchaser.

"Did Smart let you into the game?"

"You use your eyes to work your schemes and I use my head," replied Morris. "Speak quick. I haven't got all day to wait on you."

"I'll pay the twelve thousand — and if you bother Brandon again I'll break your head for you," interrupted Morris.

WHENCE THE "DARK HORSE"

Term So Universally Familiar To-Day Was First Used by Lord Beaconsfield in Novel.

The term "dark horse" is such a familiar one, even to persons who do not frequent horse races, that few stop to wonder at its origin, and fewer still know anything about the circumstances to which it owes its creation. Its origin is due to Lord Beaconsfield, who used the phrase in "The Young Duke." In this novel he speaks of a dark horse which had never been thought of and which few had so much as observed. The dark horse, however, rushed past the grand stand to victory. This dark horse was actually one of dark color, but to-day the color is no longer taken into account. A dark horse may be anything, so long as he sweeps from the ranks of the unnoticed to the glory of the winning post.

A SHAKESPEARE ENTHUSIAST.

Mr. Shakespeare Hirst, who died at Aldermore, a little village near Huddersfield, England, inherited a remarkable passion for Shakespeare and everything touching the poet's life. He was a retired publican, and, like his father before him, he devoted his money and leisure to the accumulation of Elizabethan prints and pictures, and anything connected, however remote, with Shakespeare. His museum contained, to quote his own words, "portraits of our never-fading William Shakespeare and his beautiful and noble daughter Susanna," both claimed to have been painted in Rome in 1603 by Adam Elsheimer. Many connoisseurs have agreed that this is probably a genuine likeness of the poet. It has never been photographed, and Mr. Hirst, greatly fearing thieves, kept it locked and double-locked.

GAMBLING CLERGYMAN.

In the course of a recent address in London, Bishop Percival of Hereford protested against clergymen playing bridge or attending races. The younger clergy, he said, are "too easily satisfied with services in church and very much attracted and occupied by athletic sports and other social amusements which should be subordinated to their duty and calling." In one denunciation, he continued, the clergy have declared that they are averse to conferences where the temperance question is discussed, because these meetings "do more harm than good." The personal duty of the clergy is obviously, both by precept and example, to controvert that craving for excitement, amusement, and indulgence which is so prevalent.

RUSTIC LONGEVITY.

If the length of days enjoyed by the native inhabitants be any test in such a matter, there is a little French hamlet not far from Saint Omer which ought to stand high in the world's estimation as a health resort. The hamlet is named Dermecroency. It contains only 435 souls all told, whether in infancy or in age, but of this total no fewer than 20 have reached the venerable age of 78 and upward. The patriarch of the hamlet only requires three years to complete his century, and the remaining 19 follow in a dripping succession through the nineties and the eighties. How many there are at and about 100 we are not told. Probably the number would be about another 20.—London Globe.

GOOD PATRON OF LAUNDRY.

Australia is continually establishing new records. A bankrupt under examination in Perth had his attention called to a heavy item in his accounts under the heading of "laundry." "I would have you know," he said in reply, "that I claim to be the cleanest man on earth. I always try to live up to my ideals. I wear four white shirts and two suits of undergarments each day. At that rate he must do more dressing and undressing than the German emperor, the present holder of the championship."

SKIN DISEASES HUMORS IN THE BLOOD

When the blood is pure, fresh and healthy, the skin will be soft, smooth and free from blemishes, but when some acid humor takes root in the circulation its presence is manifested by a skin eruption or disease. These humors get into the blood, generally because of an inactive or sluggish condition of the members of the body whose duty it is to collect and carry off the waste and refuse matter of the system. This unhealthy matter is left to sour and ferment and soon the circulation becomes charged with the acid poison. The blood begins to throw off the humors and acids through the pores and glands of the skin, producing Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum and skin eruptions of various kinds. Eczema appears, usually with a slight redness of the skin followed by pustules from which there flows a sticky fluid that dries and forms a crust, and the itching is intense. It is generally on the back, breast, face, arms and legs, though other parts of the body may be affected. In Tetter the skin dries, cracks and bleeds; the acid in the blood dries up the natural oils of the skin, which are intended to keep it soft and pliant, causing a dry, feverish condition and giving it a hard, leathery appearance. Acne makes its appearance on the face in the form of pimples and black heads, while Psoriasis comes in scaly patches on different parts of the body. One of the worst forms of skin trouble is Salt Rheum; its favorite point of attack is the scalp, sometimes causing baldness. Poison Old and Icy are also disagreeable types of skin disease. The humor producing the trouble lies dormant in the blood through the winter to break out and torment the sufferer with the return of spring. The best treatment for all skin diseases is S. S. S. It neutralizes the acids and removes the humors so that the skin instead of being irritated and diseased, is nourished by a supply of fresh, healthy blood. External applications of salves, washes, lotions, etc., while they soothe the itching caused by skin affections, can never cure the trouble because they do not reach the blood. S. S. S. goes down into the circulation and forces out every particle of foreign matter and restores the blood to its normal, pure condition, thereby permanently curing every form of skin affection. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice desired sent free to all who write. S. S. S. is for sale at all first class drug stores.

OUR RED TAG CLEARANCE SALE

A Rare Chance to Beautify Your Home at 1-4 Less Than Usual Prices

July 1st To July 17th.

OFF

Monday, July 1st, is the first day of our July Red Tag Clearance Sale—a sale which is to last for seventeen days. We purpose to make it the greatest money-saving event in the history of the furniture business in Paducah. Every piece of goods in our entire $50,000 stock of fine furniture and house furnishings will be marked in plain figures, showing the regular price and the Red Tag Sale price, so that you can see for yourself what sweeping reductions have been made throughout the store—three floors of the finest things ever shown in West Kentucky. Gardner's is known far and wide for the great variety of its stock; we carry much the largest line in Paducah and for this reason it is absolutely necessary that we have some particular time each year in which to reduce stock to make room for new goods. Its the Fall goods which are arriving now and in order to handle them, even in our big store, an immense amount of floor space is necessary. For this reason a uniform cut of one-fourth off has been made in the regular prices.

You get the benefit of a larger stock than you can possibly find in your home town and at prices, which the local merchant, buying in small quantities, cannot hope to equal. When you couple this with our proposition of in justice to yourself you cannot fail to visit us sometime between now and July 17th. We do not ask you to take our unsupported word for the tremendous values which we are offering during this sale. Come and see for yourselves; make comparisons. If you do that, we know we can sell you if you are really in the market for furniture, carpets, stoves, ranges, matings, refrigerators, sewing machines in fact, anything in house furnishings.

Don't put it off too long, though, for the best values will, of course, be snapped up first. If you can't come Monday, come Tuesday, for you are like everyone else you like to have first chance at things; don't you? Just to show you how well worth while your visits will be, we quote prices below on just eight of the thousands of items which will go on sale Monday morning and for seventeen days after that. They are no cheaper than the others—no better values—we simply want you to see what rare chances you will get:

A solid, quartered oak finish upright folding bed, fitted with the best springs, handsomely finished throughout and having a 17x40 French bevel plate mirror. Regular price is $28, but the RED TAG SALE price is only $21.

A solid oak three-piece bed room suit, golden finish with a flawless 24x30 French plate mirror. Regular price was $20. RED TAG SALE price is $15.

Splendid line of Solid Oak Rocking Chairs, with wood or leather seats. They are very comfortable, have arms, and during the RED TAG SALE, will be sold for $1., $1.25, $1.50 and $2.

Steel Ranges with high warming closets, polished blued steel body, with 6, 7 or 8 inch lids. Regular price is $22.50. RED TAG SALE price is $17.

A large size golden oak finish Refrigerator, with air-tight double top doors; has an ice capacity of forty pounds and always sells for $7.50; RED TAG SALE price will be $5.65.

All wool filling carpets; a magnificent variety of pretty patterns, selling regularly for 60c a yard but the RED TAG SALE price is 45c.

Extra heavy fine Brussels carpets, many handsome designs. Regular price 85c a yard—RED TAG SALE price 64c.

Superior quality Velvet Brussels Carpets, richest kind of patterns, selling regularly for $1.05 a yard; during the RED TAG SALE, however, the price will be only 80c.

You understand, of course, that these and all other RED TAG SALE prices are for spot cash. We couldn't come out even any other way. Now remember, Monday, July 1st, is the day the sale opens. Be on hand bright and early.

ANNOUNCEMENT.REPRESENTATIVE:

We are authorized to announce the candidacy of J. B. SWAN, for representative in the lower house of the state legislature, subject to the action of the democratic party.

We are authorized to announce the candidacy of J. F. MILES, for representative in the lower house of the state legislature, subject to the action of the democratic party.

The ordinance prohibiting stock, including horses, hogs, cows, etc., from running at large upon the streets, was passed at the regular meeting of the city council in June and will be in full force and effect as soon as publication is made. This last step, necessary to make the ordinance legal, will be taken next week. If you own a cow and have not made arrangements for pasturage it will be advisable to do so at once.

A crusade is being inaugurated by the board of health of this town against dirt and disease-breeding filth. Your attention is called to a notice published by the board in this issue of the Ledger. The season of fatal sickness is upon us and where the individual refuses to observe the laws of common decency and sanitation, voluntarily the power of the law will be enlisted by the board and enforced sanitation will result. We hope that there will be no occasion for the arrest and punishment of a single citizen for neglect of what is his reasonable duty to himself and his neighbor, but unless such citizen meets the requirements of the board he should be arrested and fined. Small cities, through lack of sewerage and other avenues of disposing of refuse and garbage, must give the question of the disposition of refuse matter careful consideration, and especially at this season of the year. It is a duty imposed by reason of citizenship of the town that every individual keep his own premises in a clear, healthy condition. This should be done without the aid of the board of health, but where failure to comply results the extreme penalty of the law should be imposed.

The annual meeting of the Kentucky County Attorneys' and County Judges' Association will be held at Bowling Green July 11, 12 and 13. The state bar Association also meets there at the same time. The Kentucky County Attorneys' and County Judges' Association is recruited from among all the courts of Kentucky, and the programme is an elaborate one. Rates have been obtained from all railroads, July 8 to 17. The officers of the association are as follows: President, J. C. Graham; vice president, G. P. Smythe; secretary, W. W. Spaulding; treasurer, K. G. Howell.

From present indications an effort is to be made at the meeting to be held in Louisville July 17 to unite all tobacco growers of the country in one organization. Louisville will be the headquarters of the growers of this section, and tobacco will be disposed of there, so goes the theory. This will do much to compel the American Tobacco Company to pay better prices for the raw leaf, and at the same time would seriously affect the Cincinnati and other markets. The promoters of the new association are working on their plans and hope to have them in shape to submit at the meeting on July 17.

Says He Likes It.

Ft. Caswell, N. C., July 6.—I will write a short letter to the Ledger to give the Calloway county boys some idea of the army and army life.

I have been in the service about six months and think I have learned something of both. I like it very much. I enlisted at Paducah in January and was sent to St. Louis for instructions. I was there three months and was then transferred to this place. I am located on the coast near Wilmington, N. C. My daily work consist of two hours drilling and that is all. We have a best thirty cannons, ranging in size from four to twelve inches and in drilling. We all have gunners examinations here this fall.

This is a good place for a young man to learn a trade and a place where anyone can save money and see some of the country. I think every young man should serve at least three years in the army. We make ship excursions often and the trips do not cost the army boys a cent. Have a fine band of music, gymnasium, bowling alley, churches, in fact everything to make life pleasant for the soldier. Only to companies stationed here now.

With kindest regards to my Calloway friends, I am yours truly, E. L. LEE, 31st Co. C.

Come to the Debate.

The Primitive Baptist church have endorsed Elder F. H. Sills, of Model, Tenn., to represent them and the Christian church has endorsed Elder H. A. Brown, of Conyersville, Tenn., to represent Dinner will be spread at the church house each day. Everybody is invited to bring their basket with them and spend the day, and study the investigation of Gods word. Yours very truly W. T. WALKER.

I will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart or the Kidneys. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness, always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write me to day for sample and free Book. Robbing Yourself

That is just what you are doing when you fail to get regular and sufficient sleep. Your body requires this unconscious period for repair work; without it your nerve energy becomes exhausted, and you are tired, worn-out, nervous, excitable; have headache, neuralgia, indigestion, poor appetite, or other ailments caused by a lack of nerve force. Make it your business to sleep. If you are restless, take Dr. Miles' Nervine; it soothes and strengthens the nerves, and brings sweet, refreshing, life-giving sleep, and gives the organs power to work naturally. Try it to-day.

"I had a severe spell of fever, which left me in a very weak condition, and very nervous. I had severe spells of headache and neuralgia, and could sleep but very little. Every effort that I made to recover my strength was in vain until I began taking Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. After I commenced to take the Nervine my sleep was profound and restful, and the pains in my head, as well as the neuralgia pains, left me to a certain extent and I grew gradually better."

GOLD FOUND IN SCOTLAND

Deposits of the Precious Metal Have Been Discovered on Shores of Loch Fyne.

The fame of Loch Fyne, in Scotland, has hitherto been confined to its scenery and its fisheries. Now, however, gold has been discovered on its shores, and if the ore is found to contain the precious metal in sufficient quantities to pay for its extraction, it is probable that all else will be neglected. The auriferous ores have been found near Ardaraig, on the Stronachell estate, which is owned by Mr. R. Graham-Campbell of Striven. The estate, which has an area of about 1,000 acres, is at present given up to grouse.

The presence of old lead and copper workings show that efforts were made about half a century ago to turn to advantage the mineral riches of the land. Careful analysis of a sample of quartz has proved the existence of gold as well as copper and lead. So far the quartz has been taken from the surface, and it appears to contain considerable quantities of gold, but as no sinkings have yet been made it is uncertain to what depth the vein of quartz descends. A trial shipment of 20 tons of quartz was sent to Swansea recently to have the value tested, and the ore met with a ready sale.

Several miles above Mr. Graham-Campbell's estate on the shores of Loch Fyne veins of silver were profitably worked in the seventeenth century, and the property on which they existed was entitled Silver Craigs. Gold workings are, of course, no new discovery in Scotland. When the king was on a visit to Lord Colclough at Abington, Lanarkshire, last year, he made a pilgrimage to the ruins of Crawford Castle, which is in a former gold-bearing country. James V., father of Mary, queen of Scots, employed foreign experts, who are said to have produced for their royal employer gold to the value of £100,000.

BIG FISH IN SHALLOW WATER.

A sturgeon eight feet long and weighing 200 pounds was taken from Squaw creek a mile and a half above this place recently by Fred Brooks. The big fish was seen floundering in water a foot and one-half deep. Brooks tried to shoot it and failed. Then he and his family threw rocks at it and could not kill it. Finally Brooks threw a lasso around its tail and dragged it out still alive.

It is supposed that the big fish came up Squaw creek during the high water and failed to return to its habitat before the water receded. Where it was taken the water was too shallow for it to swim.—Copper City correspondence Sacramento Bee.

NERVE PHOBIAS.

There is a class of well-defined "phobias," as they are called, with which nerve sufferers are plagued; "monophobia," or fear of being alone; "claustrophobia," or fear of closed-in spaces; a "goraphobia," or fear of crowds or of broad open spaces; "insomniaphobia," or fear of not going to sleep, and many others. The one great remedy for all these and similar mental terrors, writes Dr. Samuel McComb, in Good Housekeeping, is auto-suggestion.

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work.

Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized.

It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases, and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles.

You may have a sample bottle of Swamp-Root, by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

The Doctor Away from Home when Most Needed.

People are often very much disappointed to find that their family physician is away from home when they most need his services. Disease like cramp, colic and cholera morbus require prompt treatment, and have in many instances proven fatal before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. The right way is to keep at hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. No physician can prescribe a better medicine for these diseases. By having it in the house you escape much pain and suffering and all risk. By it now; it may save life. For sale by Dale & Stubblefield.

NEW THE NEXT WARNING

American Satisfied There Was Only One More Precaution to Be Insisted Upon.

Not long ago a passenger who arrived in Bloomington from the cape related a yarn in connection with Norway's Point bridge.

He had not been long out from England, and while in Cape Town some one, on hearing that he was going north, "pulled his leg" with regard to the safety of the bridge, which was blown up by the Boers in the early days of the war, and then repaired by the British.

He and an American refugee who was returning to the land, were leaning out of the corridor window, when, as they neared the bridge, they rolled by a notice board which, in letters a foot high, commanded—"Whistle!"

The train went slower and slower, and then glided by another notice board which entreated "Go slow. Do not touch your fires till over the bridge."

The Englishman began to feel that crossing the bridge was undoubtedly a serious matter.

Then they crept to a notice which ordered: "Speed not to exceed two and one-half miles an hour."

Then they crawled by a notice which implored: "Do not stop on the bridge."

"Say," drawled the American, nasally, "I know what the next notice commands."

"What's that?"

"Passengers must not breathe against the girders!"—Stray Stories.

SURPRISES OF FUR TRADE.

It will astonish most of our readers, writes Agnes Lant in the World's Work, to be told that on the American side of the Canada line the volume of the fur trade is the largest ever known in the United States—greater than in the days when the buffalo and beaver had the whole continent as a stamping ground.

Buffalo as a fur yielder has been exterminated. Beaver in the most of the states is practically extinct. Sea otter, from yielding 100,000 pelts a year, now give at the most only 400, at the least 200, for the trade; and the fur seal is on the way to extermination, falling from 100,000 a year to 10,000 and 14,000. But other furs have taken their place. There is more money going to trappers to-day for skunk and muskrat and fox than was ever made out of beaver and sea otter and seal and the rare furs. The swamps of New Jersey and Delaware alone yield millions of muskrats a year.

DOVE OF PEACE HATS.

"Women's hats, my dear," said the well-groomed woman, "reflect the psychology of the nations, or rather the temper of the nations at the moment. Our hats are not arbitrary creations of French designers and artists, as is sometimes averred. They are the outward and visible sign of a mental state of mankind. Last year, when Russia was in such turmoil that all the nations of the earth thought war and read war and talked war, women's hats towered aloft and bristled with rampant curves and whirlings, with battered dents and aggressive, mighty loops and bandeaux. This year, with the peace congress in thought and in actual operation, our hats became meek, submissive. You will notice that they droop demurely, and have long, meditative bows, close-furled veils and humble, wilted, downcast brims. Rip Van Winkle might know, to look at us, that peace was brooding over all."—N. Y. Press.

HAND-WOVEN REVIVAL.

Within the last few years there has been a great revival of old-fashioned, handmade weavings; in fact, the demand for all kinds of handmade products is continually on the increase. This demand brought about the revival of the rag carpets of our grandmothers, resulting in the making of hand-woven rugs that are beautiful in texture and artistic in color.

The modern hand-woven rug, says Interior Decoration, are quite an improvement on the old-fashioned rag carpet, as only new material is used in their making; therefore they are much more durable, and instead of being put together in a haphazard manner they are woven into quaint and artistic designs.

Bob Cole Pardoned.

Bob Cole, who was sentenced to twenty years in the penitentiary for killing a German laborer about nine years ago was pardoned last Saturday by Gov. Patterson, of Tennessee, and has returned to his home and family near Crossland.

The killing occurred at the home of Cole, who believed he had captured a man for whom a large reward was offered and the incident is well remembered by many of our readers. The victim, however, was not identified as the man who was wanted.

The pardon was granted principally on account of the ill health of Cole, who, it is claimed, is afflicted with lung trouble. Hazel News.

The Modern Woman.

The Nashville camp of Confederate Veterans are opposed to appointing women to places of honor in the Confederate organization, and have passed strong resolutions to this effect, the following being one of the paragraphs: "Whereas, The 'modern woman,' with her frills, her furbelows, her brass-buttoned uniform coat, her cockaded hat and her sword had no place in the South before Appomattox, and should have none now." The resolutions, it is said, were especially aimed at a woman at present on a General's staff with the title of Assistant Surgeon-General who attend reunions in full uniform. Protests have been made to the General in question but nothing was accomplished in the matter and the idea now is to get all Confederate organizations to take the matter up. —Paducah Register.

EX-Governor of Wyoming Endorses Pe-ru-na.

As a Catarrh Remedy. As An Excellent Tonic.

Responsible People.

PEOPLE occupying positions of high responsibility and trust are always very busy people. They have little or no time to devote to side issues. It is therefore very rare that such people are willing to write testimonials for anything.

Then again there is a natural diffidence in giving public endorsement to any commercial enterprise on the part of people who are much before the public.

Rare Endorsements.

It is thus that it is very rare that public officials, like governors, congressmen, senators, etc., give public endorsement to a proprietary medicine.

It is therefore a great triumph that Peruna has the unqualified endorsement of so many men in official position.

Scores of public officials of national reputation have enthusiastically declared in favor of Peruna in public print over and over again.

A Startling Fact.

There is no way to account for such a startling fact as this except that Peruna has extraordinary unusual merit. After all, people high and low, are constituted very much alike.

Natural Enthusiasm.

When a person has been really helped in getting rid of some chronic malady, after other things have failed, it is quite natural for enthusiasm to lead people to make a statement of the fact. For great services, gratitude is natural.

This is the only way that it can possibly be explained why it is that so many persons prominent in public, diplomatic and social life give testimony for Peruna.

Actual Benefit.

Peruna promptly relieves. This is the explanation. Catarrh is a disease difficult to relieve. A great many of the doctors fail to relieve it.

Gratitude Results.

A few bottles of Peruna cure a chronic malady of many years standing and it is almost impossible to repress the natural feelings of gratitude which spring up.

Catarrh of Head and Throat.

Mr. Joseph Reiss, 312 N. 14th street, St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I had catarrh of the head and throat, but through the use of five bottles of Peruna and two bottles of Manalin I was cured. 'I think that Peruna is the best tonic that I have ever used and I would advise all catarrhal sufferers to use Peruna.'"

As Hicks Sees It.

In his weather predictions for July Mr. Hicks says that the first storm period, which he calls reactionary, will center on the 2nd and 3rd, adding that "threatening to violet clouds and thunderstorms" will appear generally from the 2nd to the 4th. He intimates that cloudbursts may be expected and advises watchfulness.

"The second storm period, regular," Mr. Hicks says, "will be central on the 8th. A very warm wave will cross the country from the 6th to the 11th, the barometer will fall to low readings and blustering thunderstorms will reach active and violent culminations to touching the 8th to 10th. Look for only scattering rains, with possibly cloudbursts in localities widely separated. Rising barometer and change to cooler from about the 10th."

The third storm period, reactionary, will be central, he says, on the 13th, 14 and 15th. Mars will be nearer the earth than for fifteen years, past and seismic and volcanic disturbance will be most natural for a period of several days, centering on and about the 10th, the date of a solar eclipse. Threatening conditions and probably heavy storms will culminate about the 13th to 15th and may be prolonged through the 16th and 17th.

The fourth storm period, he says, will cover the 18th to the 23rd, but generally the rainfall will be scattering and light, but phenomenal "waterspouts" may be looked for. The culmination, storm days will be on the 20th to 22nd, followed by a change to cooler.

The fifth storm period will be central from the 24th to the 25th the full moon falling on the 24th. "Within forty-eight hours of sunset on the 24th," he says, "many storms and marked seismic disturbances will be heard from in many parts of the earth, so that a maximum of such phenomena may be noted. The temperature will fall after these storms."

The sixth storm period, according to Mr. Hicks, falls within a Mercury period, and will be central on the 31st, extending from the 29th two days into August. Much warmer weather with gathering thunderclouds will begin in the west by the 29th, and for the four following days will pass eastward across the continent.

Catarrhal Fever.

Mrs. W. K. Good, Broadway, Va., writes: "When I was fifteen years old I had catarrhal fever and for nine years I have had catarrh of the head. "Through neglect it went to my throat and nose. After consulting you I used Peruna for four months as directed, and I am entirely well and have my natural health. "I cannot praise Peruna too highly. It will do all that it is recommended to do."
